Headteacher Message

I would like to thank all of those parents that supported the school and the young people of Year 7 at our welcome event on Monday evening. It was an invaluable opportunity to meet the Head of Year, Form Tutors and other staff. Year 7 have had a great start to the year and are more than maintaining the high standards which have already been embedded into Broadoak's daily life.

Year 11 were visited on Friday morning by Mr Kelly from Ashton on Mersey Sixth Form. There was an informative presentation followed by the chance for pupils to highlight which subject areas they are interested in post 16. Year 11 need to be taking the opportunity to see post-16 providers via the range of open events which are available to all. Ashton on Mersey's Open Event is on Thursday 14th November. More details will follow in due course.

Army Outreach Team Teaches Year 9 Teamwork And Technology

On Thursday Year 9 welcomed three soldiers from the Army Outreach Team to Broadoak.

The day had a focus on Science, technology, engineering, and mathematics, or STEM. Vital subjects for any modern career.

Year 9 began with a workshop about different roles and jobs within the army, looking at how diverse the armed force of the 21 century are and the opportunities for education and world travel.

After this, Year 9 worked in teams throughout the day: building cars using stored and potential energy. Working together they had to build and design the fastest car possible without an engine. Some students designed gadgets for humanitarian aid, thinking about sustainability and locations around the world.

Luckily, we beat the rain while taking part in team building and command tasks on the yard.

We look forward to welcoming the Army Outreach Team back to Broadoak in the future.

Well done to the following students. You are the top 5 students for progress on Bedrock this week in the whole school.

Make sure you get your queue jump pass from your form tutors on Monday

ISG

Careers in construction

To build something special, it always comes back to people; from the talent we need to deliver outstanding projects to the people who contribute to and develop the latest innovations.

You can talk to some of the people currently working across a variety of roles in construction to find out more about the careers and opportunities available, and their own pathways into the industry.

The possibilities are endless: from business development to design management, marketing to site management and digital to IT.

Here's a guide to some of the average salaries across some key construction roles:

- Quantity Surveyor £30,000 - £55,000
- Building Surveyor £27,000 - £42,000
- Architect £30,000 - £42,000
- Site Manager £25,000 - £30,000
- Structural Engineer £24,000 - £40,000
- Bricklayer £23,000 - £30,000
- Scaffolder £25,000 - £35,000

MISSION CHAOS

What's on in Manchester this weekend?

Every week the newsletter will be giving you an update on events happening in and around Manchester that the whole family could get involved in.

This weekend there is lots happening, below is a few activities the pupils may enjoy.

Black History Month at HOME- HOME celebrates Black History Month throughout October. We have a short season of films by Euzhan Palcy. She was the first black filmmaker to be awarded a Cesar (French Academy Award), for her first feature Sugar Cane Alley, and was the first black female director to make a feature for a major Hollywood studio, A Dry White Season for MGM.

Football is Art- Footballers have often been described as artists on the pitch but what happens when the game is depicted as art? This exhibition shows how artists from Paul Nash to Banksy have depicted the joy, despair and passion of football. Spanning nearly one hundred years, the exhibition is the first time such a large and varied display of art depicting the game has been brought together in one place.
